DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 34-37 and 39-43 withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 11/09/06.
2. Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1-33 and 38 in the reply filed on 11/09/06 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-33 and 38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are indefinite because the scope of the term "generator" is not clear. The term is used in the application to reference a heater and/or circulation device. The specification does not disclose the referenced device as designed to "generate" air. However, the scope of the term is not redefine compare to the conventional meaning.

Art Unit: 1746

Thereby the scope of the term is indefinite. Moreover, this deficiency raises the issue of enablement, which would be addressed below.

6. Claims 1-33 and 38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The claims recite a dishwasher with an air generator. However, the specification fails to disclose a dishwasher with a device, which is generate air.

7. Claims 7, 17, 19, 21, 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 7 is indefinite because it is not clear what is referenced as "disposed with the door".

Claim 17 is indefinite because the term "the door" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim 19 is indefinite because it is not clear what structure is required by recited function or intended use recited by the claim.

Claim 21 is indefinite because it is not clear how can a pipe to circulate air.

Claim 22 is indefinite because the term "the blowpipe" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1746

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

9. Claims 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 20, 22 and 38 rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the state of the prior art admitted by the applicants in the specification (parts [0003-0009]).

The applicants admitted in the specification that conventional dishwasher comprises a heater and a circulation pump. The claims are readable on the structure of the disclosed conventional dishwasher.

10. Claims 1-5, 9-24, 27-33 and 38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sumida et al (US Patent No 5,947,135).

Sumida et al teach a dishwasher as claimed. See entire document, especially Figures 1, 12, 16, 19, and the related description.

11. Claims 1-5, 9-14, 20-22, 24, 27-29, 33 and 38 are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by FR 2,491,322.

FR 2,491,322 teaches dishwasher as claimed. See entire document, especially Figure 2 and the related description.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

12. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1746

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

13. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

14. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

15. Claims 6-8 and 25-26 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sumida et al or FR 2,491,322 in view of EP 0721762.

Sumida et al or FR 2,491,322 teach the claimed dishwasher except for providing the circulation device in the door of the dishwasher. However, EP 0721762 teaches that such was conventional in the art. See entire document, especially Figure 3 and the related description.

Art Unit: 1746

It would have been obvious to an ordinary artisan at the time the invention was made to provide circulation arrangements in dishwashers of Sumida et al or FR 2,491,322 in the dishwasher door with reasonable expectation of success because EP 0721762 teaches such as conventional and beneficial.

Conclusion

16. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US Patent 5,331,984, 4,325,552, 5,056,543, 5,277,210, and 4,247,158 are cited to show the state of the prior art with respect to dishwashers with circulation and drying devices.
